

CONSULTING AGREEMENT

between Northgate Acquisition LLC and Ray Kowalski

Dated as of July 15, 2026

This Consulting Agreement (the "Agreement") is entered into as of July 15, 2026 between Northgate Acquisition LLC (the "Company") and Ray Kowalski ("Consultant"), in connection with the Company's acquisition of the assets of Brightline Heating & Air LLC.

1. Services. Consultant will provide transition services to the Company, including customer and vendor introductions, technical and operational knowledge transfer, assistance with pending bids, and such other services as the Company may reasonably request (the "Services").

2. Term. The term of this Agreement begins on the Closing Date and ends twelve (12) months later, on July 14, 2027, unless earlier terminated under Section 7.

3. Time Commitment. Consultant will make himself available for up to twenty (20) hours per month. Hours beyond twenty in any month require the Company's prior written approval and are compensated at $125 per hour.

4. Compensation. The Company will pay Consultant a fee of Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000) per month for each month of the term, payable in arrears on the last business day of each calendar month, beginning with the month ending August 31, 2026 and ending with the month ending July 31, 2027. The fee for the partial month of July 2026 is waived. The Company will reimburse pre-approved out-of-pocket expenses within thirty (30) days of invoice.

5. Customer Introduction Schedule. Consultant will arrange and attend in-person introductions with the following customers no later than the target dates shown. The Company will confirm each introduction in writing.

6. Independent Contractor. Consultant is an independent contractor and not an employee. Consultant is responsible for his own taxes and is not eligible for Company benefits.

7. Termination. The Company may terminate this Agreement for Cause on written notice. Either party may terminate for the other's uncured material breach on thirty (30) days' notice. On termination, the Company's only obligation is to pay fees earned through the termination date. This Agreement does not affect Consultant's rights under Seller Note A or Seller Note B.

8. Confidentiality and Non-Solicitation. Consultant will keep Company information confidential and, during the term and for the restricted period under the Asset Purchase Agreement, will not solicit the Company's customers or employees.

9. Governing Law. Illinois.
